OrganizME Solutions can help you stage your home for a sale, increasing your profit and insuring a quicker sale. We will make potential buyers feel as if they could “move right in”, as well as making your home feel much larger. The services we provide include decluttering, re-arranging furniture, depersonalizing your home, or recommending small repairs or renovations.

What is home staging?

“Home staging”, or house “fluffing” is the art of preparing and packaging a home for sale. It combines real estate sale techniques with the art of film set design to present the best first impression of a sale property, both inside and out. As a homeowner, it can often be difficult to make logical decisions about your home without letting emotions guide you.

Who will benefit from home staging?

No matter what the budget, size, condition or location of a home, we can help you maximise the price of a sale and often decrease its time on the market. Our services are tailored to the unique needs of each individual client, and can range from a consultation to a full home staging incorporating both the interior and exterior.

What are some advantages of home staging?

Studies have shown that staged homes usually sell for more money than unstaged homes and often, the additional profit far surpasses the cost of the staging. We all know that speed of sale can be a huge issue, whether it is for a transfer across the country or to purchase a new home, and a home tends to sell much faster after being staged. A staged home will look much more attractive in real estate photos, therefore getting more potential buyers to come visit. Staged homes also have an edge over competing properties, and the staging can often sway the final decision.
